ROOSEVELT IS CENTER

ALL OF PARIS ENTHUSED OVER
HIS VISIT TO CITY.

HONORS UNPRECEDENTED

Thousands Throng Wherever He Goes
and Shout "Vive Roosevelt."

Paris, France, April 21.—Roosevelt has been received in Paris, the city of the gay and the Mecca of the blasé and the cynical, not alone with interest, but with such an outburst of enthusiasm as is amazing, perhaps to no one more than to Paris herself.

There is no other man in the world who could have achieved such a reception as Paris gave Roosevelt today. Emperors and Kings, famous notables and the ordinary run of notables are an old story here. They come and go—an endless procession—every month, and no one notices them. They receive the cold formalities of the official world; they live for a moment in the curt paragraphs of the press and then are gone, leaving no more impression than a caravan of shadows.

But Roosevelt is something new, something different. He is picturesque, and, next to herself, Paris dearly loves the picturesque. He is a man who does things, and Paris admires achievement and worships success. His fame as a statesman, as a hunter, as a preacher and as a leader of a great people had preceded him, and Paris has fallen in an ecstasy of admiration at his feet.

All of the morning papers today printed sketches of the former president's career, of his personality and of his jungle exploits. Foreign Minister Pinchon, over his own signature has published in the Matin a panegyric to "the greatest living statesman." The buildings, the boulevards and the Rues Paix, Royal and Rivoli are decorated in his honor.

The municipal authorities are aroused and are preparing for the distinguished visitor a series of receptions and honors that have no precedent in the last twenty years of Parisian history. Hence it was no surprise that a great crowd was at the Eastern station to greet his arrival, or that despite the early hour Ambassador Bacon, Minister Jusserand, Consul General Frank Mason and Embassy staff, French officials, Government and municipal; Baron Takahira and many other notables of the diplomatic world and a horde of journalists and photographers should have been on hand to speak the first word of welcome. But it was an amazing thing to see a crowd of workmen, shopkeepers, clerks and artisans, filling the plaza and the neighboring street, the windows of adjacent buildings and covering even the roofs, for the sole purpose of catching a fleeting glimpse of the great American.

When the famous visitor went to Elysee Palace to call upon President Fallieres, the crowd was so dense that the automobiles could scarcely find room for passage.

Col. Waterson did well in comparing him with Napoleon, for evidently the French people look upon him as a second Bonaparte.

It was really a quiet day for the strenuous one. He had little to do except make formal calls on Fallieres Pinchon and Loubet and received the return visits. After luncheon he disappeared for two hours, and a French journalist immediately started a mystery story which seethed with rumors of a political conference of dynasty-shaking importance. The sensation was exploded at sunset when Roosevelt returned from a drive, explaining that he had been on a visit to his sister and to the studio of the American artist, Si-

is pretty lively work sometimes; but if it's well done, the results are usually good. We've broken a lot of high-spirited fellows to our clothes; and we expect to keep on doing it. The man we especially like to "tackle" is the fellow who thinks we can't persuade him that these fine clothes, made for us by

are better than any he gets made to measure; better for him; economy for him; better style, better quality. We're convincing a lot of just such skeptics right along. The clothes do it; all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

In the evening, Col. Roosevelt went to the Comedie Francaise, where he occupied a box with President Fallieres. He was warmly cheered when he entered the theater, and also upon his departure. He plans to spend a week in Paris, and the great problem that he is now deciding is how he will divide his time. He has so many invitations, he says, that if he had twenty-four hours each day and each night he might be able to accept half of them. So great is the pressure to see him that Ambassador Bacon finds it necessary to act as a buffer between him and the numerous Americans who crowd into the embassy. He has issued invitations to a reception tomorrow, but these are confined strictly to the members of the local American organization, which is a great disappointment to thousands in the American colony, and to hundreds of tourists.

In Memory of Opening of Country to White Settlers.

Oklahoma City, Ok., April 21.—The April fiesta, the most resplendent event Oklahoma City has ever attempted in celebration of the anniversary of the opening of Oklahoma to white settlement, April 22, 1889, began today under fair skies, with Gen. J. B. Weaver of Iowa, known as the "Father of Oklahoma," the central figure and chief speaker of the indoor exercises. Gen. Weaver was a guest at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Sutton, president of the Women's Oklahoma Society of Eighty-Niners. Tomorrow he will deliver an address at the State Fair grounds.

The parade tonight was witnessed by 75,000 people. Gorgeously decorated floats and automobiles bore trimmings and characters representing Columbus before Queen Isabella, Pocahontas Saving the Life of John Smith, the Louisiana Purchase, the Spirit of '89, the Advance of Civilization, the Queen of Fashion, Oklahoma City, Peace and Prosperity. It was led by Gov. Haskell and military staff and Hart Ward, "Rex Aprilla" and Miss Myrtle Elizabeth Owen "Larene Aprilla." Tomorrow a second parade will be given under the direction of the Society of Eighty-Niners. A reproduction of the famous run with the State Fair Grounds as the destination, will be the spectacular feature of the day. Probably 200 men who made the run twenty-one years ago will participate.

BRYAN TO AID PROS IN MISSOURI

Nebraskan Will Take the Stump for State-Wide Campaign.

Springfield, Mo., April 21.—Judge William H. Wallace of Kansas City, the Missouri Constitutional Amendment Association's president, today notified its officers here that he has received a letter from William Jennings Bryan in which Mr. Bryan promises to work in the cause of prohibition in Missouri after the campaign is on in earnest. How many speeches Mr. Bryan will make in Missouri is not known.

While it was known that he had field.

come out for the county unit prohibition plan in Nebraska, the announcement that he is coming to Missouri the coming summer in the interest of the constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition which will be voted on at the November election, surprised many.

Ada is a little cleaner, but there is work enough yet.

The prospects for the state summer Normal school are very flattering.

Interest in the office of county commissioner and sheriff seems to be vying with each other.

Next week the personnel of the complement of Normal Teachers for next year will be determined.

The Ada democrats should attend
the meeting at the court house this evening, when there will be proposed the preparation of a big county democratic rally in the near future.

Read Democratic Club President
Ebey's call for meeting at court house this evening.

It should be an interesting meeting at court house, where the city
democracy will meet tonight.

The late number of the Pathfinder,
E. C. N. magazine reflects very creditably on Normal and its student body.

The News family has been largely ill during the past two weeks, consequently some shortage in press
productions.

The normal building roof is being painted red, but before its dry it resembles the color of Pontotoc county soil.

It is said that Col. Cox, the veteran county officer, when he heard that he had an opponent, ordered his horse fresh shod.

To the spirit of Mark Twain, we wish you had remained in the world
you made cheery and brighter longer.
The Tom Sawyers and Huckleberry
Finns will miss you.

If Gov. Patterson of Tennessee is re-elected Chief Potentate it will hardly be too much to expect that he will make Col. Dunc. Cooper
Grand Master at Arms.—Dallas News

The mayor regrets that the city could not be furnished water from the clear stream of Sandy during
the muddy days of the reservoir, but could not arrange on account of defective pump.

Mayor L. J. Little expresses satisfaction with the apparent progress of the city clean-up crusade. Capt.
W. H. Fisher hasn't finished the inspection yet, but will make detailed report in few days.

GREAT SAMUEL CLEMENS DEAD

GREAT HUMORIST, MARK TWAIN, PASSES TO OTHER

DIED OF BROKEN HEART

Has World Wide Reputation as Author.

Redding, Conn., April 21.—Samuel
Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain)
died painlessly at 6:30 o'clock tonight of angina pectoris. He lapsed into coma at 3 o'clock this afternoon and never recovered consciousness.
It was the end of a man outworn by
grief and acute agony of body.
Yesterday was a bad day for the little knot of anxious watchers at the bedside. For long hours the gray, aquiline feature lay molded in the inertia of death, while the pulse sank lower and lower but late at night Mark Twain passed from stupor into
the first natural sleep he had known since he returned from Bermuda,
and this morning he awoke refreshed,
even faintly cheerful and in full possession of all his faculties.

His Last Words.
He recognized his daughter, Clara,
Mrs. Ossip Gabrilowitch, spoke a word or two, and feeling himself unequal to conversation, wrote out in pencil:
"Give me my glasses."

They were his last words. Laying them aside, he sank first into reverie and later into final unconsciousness.

There was no thought at the time,
however, that the end was so near.
At 5 o'clock Dr. Robert Halsey, who had been continuously in attendance,
said:

"Mr. Clemens is not so strong at this hour as he was at the corresponding hour yesterday, but he has wonderful vitality and he may rally
again."

Friends Realized End Was Near.
Albert Bigelow Paine, Mark Twain's
biographer and literary executor, said to a caller who desired to inquire of Mr. Clemens:
I do not think you will have to call often again.
Nevertheless, Mr. and Mrs. E. E.
Loomis, who had come up from New York City to give their love in person, left Stormfield, Mr. Clemens' house, without seeing him, and only heard of his death as they were taking the train to New York again.
Mrs. Loomis was Mr. Clemens' favorite niece and Mr. Loomis is vice president of the Lackawanna Railroad.

Similarly Jauris Langdon, a nephew, who had run up for the day left even earlier and wholly uninformed.

Few Near When End Came.

At the death bed was only Mrs.
Gabrilowitch (Clara Clemens) her husband, Dr. Robert Halsey, Dr. Quintard, Albert Bigelow Paine, who will write Mark Twain's biography and is his literary executor, and the two trained nurses.

Restoratives were administered but
the patient failed to respond.

A tank of oxygen still stands uncalled for at the Redding station. The valvular action of the heart was not disordered. There was only an extreme and increasing debility, accompanied by labored respiration.

Nature of Illness.

Angina pectoris is a paroxysmal affection of the chest of baffling and obscure origin, characterized by severe pain, faintness and deep depression of the spirits. The pain is severe and of an oppressive or stabbing character. The attacks progress in frequency and severity with uncertain intermissions, sometimes of long duration to a fatal termination.

Mark Twain did not die in anguish. On the way up from Bermuda he said to Albert Bigelow Paine, who had been his constant companion in illness:

"This is a bad job, we will never pull through with it."

Protested Against Restoratives.

On shore once more and longing
for the serenity of the New England hills, he took heart and said to those who noted his enfeeblement in sorrow: "Give me a breath of Redding air once more and this will pass."

But it did not pass, and, tired of body, and weary of spirit, the old warrior against shams and snobs
said faintly to his nurses:

"Why do you fight to keep me alive? Two days of life are as good to me as four."

Doctors Don't Blame Tobacco.

It is certain to be recalled that Mark Twain was for more than fifty years an inveterate smoker, and the first conjecture of the layman would be that he had weakened his heart
by overindulgence in tobacco. Dr.
Halsey said tonight that he was unable to predicate that the angina
pectoris from which Mark Twain
died was in any way a sequel of nicotine poisoning. Some constitutions, he said, seem immune from the effects of tobacco. This was one of them. Yet it is true that since his illness began the doctors had cut down Mark Twain's daily allowance of twenty cigars and countless pipes
to four cigars a day.

No deprivation was a greater sorrow to him. He tried to smoke on the steamer while returning from Bermuda and only gave up because he was too feeble to draw. Even on his deathbed, when he passed the point of speech and it was no longer certain that his ideas were lucid, he would make the motion of waving
a cigar and smiling, expel air from under the mustache still stained with smoke.

It is a legend that he was vastly proud of his famous mop of white hair and used to spend the pains
of a court lady in waiting in getting it to just the proper stage of artistic disarray.

Was Great Story Teller.

Through the lanes of Stormfield,
his home, he loved to wander in his white flannels for homely gossip
with the neighbors. They remembered him best as one who above all things loved a good listener. Mark was a mighty talker, stored with fairly tales for the little maids he adored and racier, ruder speech for more stalwart masculine ears.

Senator Purcell Says President Leans
Toward the Railroad Interests.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Senator Purcell, in his maiden speech in the senate today on the railroad bill, practically charged the president and attorney general with purpose to transform the supreme court to insure the construction of the proposed railroad law so as to supplant and nullify state constitutions. He said that there were two vacancies on the supreme bench and practically two more will soon exist, which would mean four appointments for Taft to make.

"The pending bill shows the president strongly inclined towards railroad interests," said Purcell. "How easy it is for the president to have appointees bring about changes in the existing law." He found fault with failure in the bill prohibiting
over capitalization and improper combinations on the part of railroads.

To the Democrats of the City of Ada.
You are hereby called to meet at court house Friday, April 22nd at 7:30 P. M. for the purpose of considering the proposition of entertaining the democracy of Pontotoc county, and whatever else may come up for the good of the party. Every democrat is urged to be present.
W. H. EBEEY,
President Ada Democratic Club.

TO VOTERS! PUT CANDIDATES ON RECORD.

The time has come when you should know what candidates who
ask you to vote for them stand for.
The man who represents you in an official capacity should represent the legislation and administration of government to rest.

Put this question to all who ask
your support:

1. Do you advocate the adoption of the railroads' proposed amendment to the state constitution? If so, why?
Put these questions to all who ask your support for governor, legislature
and all other state offices:

1. Do you favor a law requiring railroads to build switches to private industries and pay for that part of the switch that is on their right of way?

2. Are you in favor of a law controlling the issuing of stocks and bonds and preventing watering of stock or other inflation of capitalization by having all issues of securities approved by the corporation commission before being authorized?

3. Are you in favor of a law making the time in which to perfect appeals to the supreme court from the corporation commission shorter than 12 months as the law now stands?

As the law now stands railroads evade construction of private switches because they are not compelled to construct the portion of the same that must be on right of way and will not permit the private industry to do so.

As the law now stands inflation of capitalization is unrestricted.

As the law now stands corporations appealing from an order of the corporation commission have a year in which to perfect their appeal, thereby requiring from one and a half to two years to get a decision by the supreme court, thereby greatly delaying justice and the relief sought
and awarded. As an illustration: The corporation commission orders a depot erected in a town that needs it.
The railroad gives bond and appeals.
It has twelve months' time to perfect
an appeal. Then it is argued before the supreme court and decided. The company asks for a rehearing, which is sometimes allowed, the case reopened and more time consumed.

Put these questions up to candidates. Make them stand for something.
J. E. LOVE,
Chairman Corporation Commission.

ADA IS TO HAVE A BAND.

At Meeting Last Night Twenty-Two Boys Were Enrolled.

At last Ada is to have a first-class band. For some time the question has been agitated, but no definite action was taken in the matter until last night when a meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining who would join. When the roll was called twenty-two responded, with the assurance that they would become active members.

At this meeting the instruments were selected and an order given for them.

Action was also taken on employing an instructor, who is to be here the third of May, at which time the instruments are expected to be here when active practice work will begin.

The band boys should have the hearty support of the citizens of Ada in maintaining a good band, and we believe that they will receive it.

Sorosis Notes.

Sorosis held a call session at the South school building Tuesday afternoon. Many plans were formulated for next years work.

The following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the annual meeting of the 4th district at Tishomingo: First delegate, Mrs. McKeel; second delegate, Miss Case. First alternate, Mrs. Bowman; second alternate, Miss Johnson.

The committee on arrangements for the May Pole drill, on April 29th have decided to have this in connection with a picnic on April 30th, this being Saturday, and all Sorosis children will be out of school. Notice will be given later.

FOR FARMERS BENEFIT.

Proposes Big Picnic When Farmers Will Discuss Advanced Agriculture.

The following letter has been received by S. R. Tolbert, superintendent of the Pontotoc County demonstration farm:

Guthrie, Ok., April 20, 1910.—Mr. S. R. Tolbert, Manager Pontotoc County Demonstration Farm, Ada, Okla. Dear Sir: This department is desirous of interesting and enlisting as many farmers as possible in the demonstration farm work, and I am therefore asking your opinion of the following plan:

Some time during the spring have a special meeting of the County Farmers' Institute called to meet at or near the present demonstration farm in each county. Advise it as a farmers' picnic and state the object for which it is called. At this meeting the County Institute could provide one or two speakers and our district inspector will also be present to speak. The matter of making a contract for another year would be taken up and disposed of as we will then be in a position to know the man's fitness for the place. Should the present farmer not desire to continue the work, or should his work not be satisfactory to the board, or a change is desired, we could make a contract with some one else.

This meeting should be held sometime during the latter part of May or the fore part of June, in order that we may know what shall be done toward planting wheat in counties where that crop is grown. At this time the farm should be in excellent condition and our work show to good advantage.

I would be pleased to hear from you at your convenience on this proposition and any suggestions you may make will be carefully considered.

Respectfully yours,

Oklahoma State Board of Agriculture By A. C. Cobb, Supt. Dem. Farms.

It has been decided by the officers of the Farmers' Institute to call this picnic the first Wednesday in June, four miles south of Ada, in the grove adjacent the county demonstration farm. This is to be a great gathering of farmers and you are urged to come and bring a full basket. Plenty of water and pasture for yourself and stock and if you wish to come the day previous and camp, the outing will be refreshing and recuperating. Do not forget the date June 1st.

INSURGENTS KEEP GRILLING CANNON

Another Attempt to Meddle With Rules Committee Ends in Failure.

Washington, April 21.—A movement was launched today by the "insurgent" republican members of the house to take away from the speaker the power to appoint the house committees.

Soon after the house met at noon Representative Fowler of New Jersey one of the "insurgents," asked immediate consideration of a resolution providing for the selection of two committees, one to be composed of republicans and the other of democrats, the duty of which would be to designate all members of house committees.

Immediately the house became a scene of confusion, members anticipating a repetition of the stirring scenes enacted several weeks ago when the "insurgents" combining with the democrats, succeeded in removing the speaker from the powerful committee on rules.

Members who had been absent at committee meeting when the resolution was presented, came flocking into the chamber and catching the fever of excitement, added to the confusion. The speaker finally obtained some semblance of order and announced that 275 members were present.

Mr. Fowler was again recognized on his resolution. He announced that he did not wish consideration of the resolution until May 2, but desired to have it referred to the committee on rules and to have it come up before the house as a privileged matter on the date mentioned.

The speaker promptly decided that the resolution was not in order, but said he was willing to hear arguments on the point.

The tension was relieved by Mr. Fowler saying he would withdraw the resolution and deposit it in the basket. The Hopper system for bills and resolutions prevails in the house.

ADA CARNIVAL

The Weatherford Daily Herald says:

They are the famous Lachman shows that were here last year. They consist of the Georgia Minstrels. They present colored minstrels in acts that are very interesting and laughable. Then they have the "Dixieland" show, presenting the Three Vans, who were in Weatherford last spring, playing at the Peoples Theater. The people who saw them there appreciate their return.

Another of the leading features is the Palace of Mystery, in which Prof. Gardner, featuring wonderful Hindoo magic, gives some wonderful exhibitions. Also "Lunett," the flying lady, gives marvelous exhibitions flying through the air. "Supera" is a marvelous electrical performance featuring Lola whose exhibitions cannot be excelled.

In the tent, showing "Little Billy" will be found the smallest horse in the world. He stands 24 inches high and weighs 42 pounds. He is a wonder and creates a sensation wherever seen. Also in this show will be found the man-ape named "Joe." The next show in line is "Elma," the fattest girl in all the world. Of course the Ferris wheel and merry-ground will attract their quota of attention, always being liberally patronized by the people—especially the youngsters. High wire walking will be given twice daily, exhibiting marvelous feats of skill and nerve. All in all these shows that have come to the city are clean and up-to-date giving very good entertainment for the money.—Adv.

PREPARE SWEET POTATO LAND.

To our mind, there is no crop on our farms that pays more profits for the cost of production than the sweet potato. The great trouble is that the potato requires so little attention that it is often neglected.

The best sweet potato soil is a deep sandy loam with plenty of humus to make the soil mellow and to supply plant food for the development of the tubers. The land should be well-prepared, deep breaking and good harrowing are necessary.

The sweet potato thrives better when placed upon a slight ridge. If the land was flat-broken early last fall or this spring, it should be broken again now. Run the harrow after the plow to pulverize the land. Before the slips are to be set the land may be bedded. Run a drag over the beds to reduce the height and at the same time to firm them for reception of the slips.

If the tubers were bedded out early and forced by watering frequently the slips should be ready to set April 15. To escape the danger of summer drouth, early slips are desirable.

Sweet potatoes are easily kept during the winter if care is taken to gather them and house them properly. There is seldom a surplus of good potatoes on the market during late fall and winter. Where growers are well situated with reference to market, sweet potato growing is a profitable line of farming.—Farm and Ranch.

Union Services Sunday.

Sunday evening there will be a union service of all the congregations in South Ada. The service will be held at the Methodist church and the occasion will be an address by Dr. Conger, state chairman of the anti-Saloon League. Mr. Conger is represented as being a very popular speaker in his particular line. There will be no evening services at any of the other churches.

LOVE FILES ARGUMENT FOR AMENDMENT BALLOT

Chairman of Corporation Commission Gives Reasons for Defeat of Amendment.

Guthrie, April 21.—Chairman J. E. Love of the corporation commission today filed an argument to be printed on the ballot on the question of the repeal of section 9 of article 9 of the constitution, requiring general offices of the railroads to be maintained in the state. He claims the argument for the railroads prepared by the federated commercial clubs of the state was written in a railroad officials' meeting in Chicago and that the commercial bodies of Oklahoma had no hand in it. He says the proposed amendment would strip the commission of its power to exert any influence denying the right to essential information. The proposed amendment would leave the commission without authority to examine any record or to prevent the entire control of any telephone, oil, railway or gas industry by a corporation chartered anywhere else.

REPUBLICANS WARNED.

Level Headed Cummins Says Defeat Would Follow Approval of R. R. Bill.

Washington, April 21.—The crucial stage in the fight on the bill to amend the interstate commerce act has been reached in the senate, and in an impressive speech today Senator Cummins gave solemn warning to the republicans that if the issue was not in the interest of the people the party need look only for further disaster. The contest now rages around the retention or amendment of Sec. 7, which, as it stands, gives the railroads the right to make traffic agreements practically free from supervision or control of the interstate commerce commission.

Would Destroy Present Advantages. Senator Cummins and the other progressives, in common with the democrats, contend that this is a monstrous proposition which will go far to destroy the present usefulness of the interstate commerce commission and practically throw away all the advantage gained by the government and people in the long fight for adequate control of the operations of the interstate carriers.

Condemns Section 7.

Senator Cummins condemned the provisions of Sec. 7, as they appear in the bill, in the strongest language and appealed to his colleagues of all shades of opinion not to permit this step backward. If they did a terrible day of reckoning would come, and come swiftly, he said, for the eyes of the country are on the same, and the country is thoroughly aroused and well informed of what is going on. The senator in impassioned tones declared he could not find language strong enough to express his sense of the gravity of the crisis that confronted the senate, and begged his colleagues to pause and consider what they did before rejecting the amendment he had offered to correct the vicious provisions of the section in repealing the anti-trust law as it applied to railroads and putting nothing in its place to enable the government to supervise and regulate the dangerous practice of pooling.

Incidentally, Senator Cummins made a striking digression, in which he gave with boldness his views as to what is the matter with the republican party.

Troubles of Republicans.

"We sometimes wonder what is wrong with the republican party," said Senator Cummins. "I am going to speak now for a moment to my republican party associates. We were shocked a little when we heard the returns of the election in a Massachusetts district. We are overwhelmed and dismayed when we read the dispatches announcing the outcome in the New York district. Some people attribute this disturbance, this loss of faith in the republican party, to the tariff, some to the postal savings bank bill, some to this law and some to other things. Let me remind you, however, my fellow-senators, that is not due to any particular law. The people of this country are not insisting upon equality of conditions. They are willing to grow poor while others grow rich. They are willing to live in hovels while others live in palaces and they made no complaint. They understand the natural, inevitable forces of business and commercial life and are willing to accord to superior power, superior sagacity, superior genius the reward of these superiorities, but only so long as they believe their representatives are intent upon full and complete justice; only so long as their governing bodies, whether they be legislative, executive or judicial, are doing what they can to give every man a fair and equal opportunity in the struggle of life.

COOK AND PEARY FACTIONS ARE PLANNING.

Man Who Acts Funny and Stays in Room Excites Comment.

Sulphur, Okla., April 21.—Sulphur has become much aroused this morning over the report that Dr. Frederick Cook was in the city, and every man and woman who had a kodak and the photographers of the town are out in national park trailing a worn and wan stranger who resembles the North Pole explorer.

L. C. Robinson of Dallas, J. M. Phillips, a traveling salesman from New York City and a number of visitors in Sulphur who have met the stranger at the Springs before breakfast this morning recognized him as Dr. Cook, whom they heard lecture on his return from the Arctic. But the stranger evaded direct questions as to his identity and would neither confess or deny that he is the famed explorer said by Copenhagen to have faked the world.

Three days ago the stranger, accompanied by much travel worn baggage, arrived from the south and secured apartments at the Brice rooming house, a quiet place in the residence district, overlooking the National park and convenient to the spring, and registered as Prof. G. A. Kastelic. Since his arrival he has taken his meals in his rooms and has avoided the public and his fellow guests at his boarding house. Mrs. Brice, the keeper of the rooming house where the stranger is stopping reports that she has seen in his apartments many fine fur garments and other suits of Spanish make embroidered with gold and silver, and that he talked to her of a recent trip through the republics on the west coast of South America, and of a visit to the Panama Canal and to Mexico.

The recognition of the stranger as Dr. Cook by those in the city who heard the explorer lecture has greatly excited the Cook and Peary partisans the Peary advocates declaring that if the stranger is really Dr. Cook they will run him out of town as an unspeakable fake and imposter. The Cook advocates say they will have the Doctor lecture if not upon his polar expedition then upon some of his travels since Copenhagen turned down his data.

Mayor C. B. Emanuel, one of the strong advocates of Dr. Cook, will seek an audience with the stranger today, and will invite him to deliver an address at the opera house at the Doctor's convenience.

HAIR HEALTH.

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if we were not certain that it would do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that if your hair is beginning to unnaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured that we know what we are talking about.

Out of one hundred test cases Rexall "93" Hair Tonic gave entire satisfaction in ninety-three cases. It has been proved that it will grow hair even on bald heads, when, of course, the baldness had not existed for so long a time that the follicles, which are the roots of the hair, had not become absolutely lifeless.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is vastly different from other similar preparations. We believe that it will do more than any other human agency toward restoring hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy and will not gum the scalp or hair or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded without question or quibble if it does not do as we claim. Certainly we can offer no stronger argument. It comes in two sizes prices 50 cent and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Gwin & Mays Co.

HARMON MAY HEAD PARTY

Hearst's Name Mentioned Also as Presidential Timber.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—There are many echoes being heard now from that Jefferson Day banquet in Washington. The political significance of the speech of John Temple Graves, representing William R. Hearst, general manager of the Independence league, is proving an important factor in the democratic camp. There is an impression—more than an impression, in fact—that Mr. Hearst is anxious to get back into the democratic fold and bring his following with him. But it is surmised he may want to do a bit of dictating that will not be pleasant to many of the leaders.

Harmon and Hearst for 1912 is a suggestion made as to what might suit the Independence Leaguers. Harmon is the first choice of the majority of the democratic leaders for head of the ticket at this time, and if he is re-elected governor of Ohio, the coming fall it is regarded as impossible to head him off. Previous to this Mr. Hearst has figured in the talk as a prospective democratic candidate for governor of New York this year. Possibly a situation might arise where some ardent friends of the Independence League head would suggest "Hearst and Harmon," but this reverse order finds no hold among the thick-and-thin democrats.

What Mr. Graves did that excites comment was to promise that the league would stand with the democratic party in the coming congressional elections "for the best principles of a harmonious democratic party." Mr. Graves pointed out, however, that combination of forces rests with the democratic end. The league, he declared, sees an opportunity for united action and is ready to accept the democratic party that is not half-Bryan, half-Belmont, half-Hearst and half-Ryan.

ROOSEVELT IS CENTER

ALL OF PARIS ENTHUSED OVER
HIS VISIT TO CITY.

and Shout "Vive Roosevelt."

Paris, France, April 21—Roosevelt has been received in Paris, the city of the gay and the Mecca of the blasé and the cynical, not alone with interest, but with such an outburst of enthusiasm as is amazing, perhaps to no one more than to Paris herself.

There is no other man in the world who could have achieved such a reception as Paris gave Roosevelt today. Emperors and Kings, famous notables and the ordinary run of notables are an old story here. They come and go—an endless procession—every month, and no one notices them. They receive the cold formalities of the official world, they live for a moment in the curt paragraphs of the press and then are gone, leaving no more impression than a caravan of shadows.

But Roosevelt is something new, something different. He is picturesque, and, next to himself, Paris dearly loves the picturesque. He is a man who does things, and Paris admires achievement and worships success. His fame as a statesman, as a hunter, as a preacher and as a leader of a great people had preceded him, and Paris has fallen in an ecstasy of admiration at his feet.

All of the morning papers today printed sketches of the former president's career of his personality and of his jungle exploits. Foreign Minister Pinchon over his own signature has published in the Matin a panegyric to the greatest living statesman. The buildings the boulevards and the Rues Paix Royal and Rivoli are decorated in his honor.

The municipal authorities are aroused and are preparing for the distinguished visitor a series of receptions and honors that have no precedent in the last twenty years of Parisian history. Hence it was no surprise that a great crowd was at the Eastern station to greet his arrival, or that despite the early hour Ambassador Bacon, Minister Jusserand, Consul General Frank Mason and Embassy staff, French officials, Government and municipal, Baron Takahira and many other notables of the diplomatic world and a horde of journalists and photographers should have been on hand to speak the first word of welcome. But it was an amazing thing to see a crowd of workmen, shopkeepers, clerks and artisans, filling the plaza and the neighboring street, the windows of adjacent buildings and covering even the roofs, for the sole purpose of catching a fleeting glimpse of the great American.

When the famous visitor went to Elysee Palace to call upon President Fallieres, the crowd was so dense that the automobiles could scarcely find room for passage.

Col. Watterson did well in comparing him with Napoleon, for evidently the French people look upon him as a second Bonaparte. It was really a quiet day for the strenuous one. He had little to do except make formal calls on Fallieres, Pinchon and Loubet and received the return visits. After luncheon he disappeared for two hours and a French journalist immediately started a mystery story which seethed with rumors of a political conference of dynasty-shaking importance. The sensation was exploded at sunset when Roosevelt returned from a drive, explaining that he had been on a visit to his sister and to the studio of the American artist, Si-

is pretty lively work sometimes; but if it's well done, the results are usually good. We've broken a lot of high-spirited fellows to our clothes; and we expect to keep on doing it. The man we especially like to "tackle" is the fellow who thinks we can't persuade him that these fine clothes, made for us by

are better than any he gets made to measure; better for him; economy for him; better style, better quality. We're convincing a lot of just such skeptics right along. The clothes do it; all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical, the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

In the evening, Col. Roosevelt went to the Comedie Francaise where he occupied a box with President Fallieres. He was warmly cheered when he entered the theater, and also upon his departure. He plans to spend a week in Paris and the great problem that he is now deciding is how he will divide his time. He has so many invitations, he says, that if he had twenty-four hours each day and each night he might be able to accept half of them. So great is the pressure to see him that Ambassador Bacon finds it necessary to act as a buffer between him and the numerous Americans who crowd into the embassy. He has issued invitations to a reception tomorrow, but these are confined strictly to the members of the local American organization, which is a great disappointment to thousands in the American colony, and to hundreds of tourists.

In Memory of Opening of Country to White Settlers.

Oklahoma City, Ok., April 21—The April festa, the most resplendent event Oklahoma City has ever attempted in celebration of the anniversary of the opening of Oklahoma to white settlement, April 22, 1889, began today under fair skies, with Gen. J. E. Weaver of Iowa, known as the "Father of Oklahoma" the central figure and chief speaker of the indoor exercises. Gen. Weaver was a guest at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Sutton, president of the Women's Oklahoma Society of Eighty-Niners. Tomorrow he will deliver an address at the State Fair grounds. The parade tonight was witnessed by 75,000 people. Gorgeously decorated floats and automobiles bore trimmings and characters representing Columbus before Queen Isabelle, Pocahontas Saving the Life of John Smith, the Louisiana Purchase, the Spirit of '89, the Advance of Civilization, the Queen of Fashion Oklahoma City, Peace and Prosperity. It was led by Gov. Haskell and military staff and Hart Ward, "Rex Aprilla" and Miss Myrtle Elizabeth Owen. Lareine Aprilla. Tomorrow a second parade will be given under the direction of the Society of Eighty-Niners. A reproduction of the famous run wit hithe State Fair Grounds as the destination, will be the spectacular feature of the day. Probably 200 men who made the run twenty-one years ago will participate.

BRYAN TO AID PROS IN MISSOURI

Nebraskan Will Take the Stump for State-Wide Campaign.

Springfield, Mo., April 21—Judge William H. Wallace of Kansas City, the Missouri Constitutional Amendment Association's president, today notified its officers here that he has received a letter from William Jennings Bryan in which Mr. Bryan promises to work in the cause of prohibition in Missouri after the campaign is on in earnest. How many speeches Mr. Bryan will make in Missouri is not known. While it was known that he had come out for the county unit prohibition plan in Nebraska, the announcement that he is coming to Missouri the coming summer in the interest of the constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition which will be voted on at the November election, surprised many.

500-Barrel Oil Well.

Muskogee, Ok., April 21—A five hundred barrel oil well was brought in on the E. A. Young farm near Wainwright, Ok., today at 1900 feet. The well is an important one, because it is ten miles from any other oil well, and opens up a new oil field.

"Our Deal With Rats." McClure's says:—"On the back of the Rat rides triumphantly around the world, spreading death in a terrible form, the flea that carries in itself the germs of bubonic plague." It costs us $500,000,000 a year to feed the rats in the United States.

We advocate that this town have a rat killing week. Then when the rat leaves your house he will also find rat poison at your neighbors.

Ada is a little cleaner, but there
is work enough yet.
The prospects for the state summer Normal school are very flattering.
Interest in the office of county commissioner and sheriff seems to
be vying with each other.
Next week the personnel of the complement of Normal Teachers for
next year will be determined.
The Ada democrats should attend
the meeting at the court house this
evening, when there will be proposed the preparation of a big county democratic rally in the near future.

Read Democratic Club President
Ebey's call for meeting at court house this evening.
It should be an interesting meeting at court house, where the city
democracy will meet tonight.
The late number of the Pathfinder,
E. C. N. magazine reflects very creditably on Normal and its student body.
The News family has been largely ill during the past two weeks, consequently some shortage in press
productions.
The normal building roof is being painted red, but before its dry
it resembles the color of Pontotoc
county soil.
It is said that Col. Cox, the veteran county officer, when he heard
his horse fresh shod.
To the spirit of Mark Twain, we
wish you had remained in the world
The Tom Sawyers and Huckleberry
Finns will miss you.
If Gov. Patterson of Tennessee is re-elected Chief Potentate it will
hardly be too much to expect that he will make Col. Dunc Cooper

GREAT HUMORIST, MARK TWAIN,

DIED OF BROKEN HEART

Author.

Redding, Conn., April 21.—Samuel
Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain)
died painlessly at 6:30 o'clock tonight of angina pectoris. He lapsed into coma at 3 o'clock this afternoon
and never recovered consciousness.
It was the end of a man outworn by
grief and acute agony of body.
little knot of anxious watchers at
the bedside. For long hours the gray,
aquiline feature lay molded in the
inertia of death, while the pulse sank
lower and lower but late at night Mark Twain passed from stupor into
the first natural sleep he had known
since he returned from Bermuda,
and this morning he awoke refreshed,
even faintly cheerful and in full possession of all his faculties.
His Last Words.
He recognized his daughter, Clara,
Mrs. Ossip Gabrilowitch, spoke a
equal to conversation, wrote out in
pencil:
"Give me my glasses."
They were his last words. Laying
them aside, he sank first into reverie
and later into final unconsciousness.
There was no thought at the time,
however, that the end was so near.
At 5 o'clock Dr. Robert Halsey, who had been continuously in attendance,
said:
"Mr. Clemens is not so strong at
this hour as he was at the corresponding hour yesterday, but he has
wonderful vitality and he may rally
Friends Realized End Was Near.
Albert Bigelow Paine, Mark Twain's
biographer and literary executor,
said to a caller who desired to inquire of Mr. Clemens:
"I do not think you will have to call often again."
Nevertheless, Mr. and Mrs. E. E.
Loomis, who had come up from New
son, left Stormfield, Mr. Clemens's
heard of his death as they were taking the train to New York again.
Mrs. Loomis was Mr. Clemens's favorite niece and Mr. Loomis is vice president of the Lackawanna Railroad.
Similarly Jauris Langdon, a

Few Near When End Came.
husband, Dr. Robert Halsey, Dr. Quintard, Albert Bigelow Paine, who will write Mark Twain's biography and is
his literary executor, and the two
trained nurses.
Restoratives were administered but
the patient failed to respond.
A tank of oxygen still stands un-
not disordered. There was only an extreme and increasing debility, accompanied by labored respiration.
Nature of Illness.
Angina pectoris is a paroxysmal
obscure origin, characterized by severe pain, faintness and deep depression of the spirits. The pain is severe and of an oppressive or stab-
bing character. The attacks progress
certain intermissions, sometimes of long duration to a fatal termination.
Mark Twain did not die in anguish.
On the way up from Bermuda he said to Albert Bigelow Paine, who had been his constant companion in
illness:
"This is a bad job, we will never pull through with it."
Protested Against Restoratives.
On shore once more and longing
for the serenity of the New England
hills, he took heart and said to those
who noted his enfeeblement in sorrow: "Give me a breath of Redding
air once more and this will pass."
But it did not pass, and, tired of
body, and weary of spirit, the old
warrior against shams and snobs
said faintly to his nurses:
"Why do you fight to keep me
alive? Two days of life are as good
to me as four."
Doctors Don't Blame Tobacco.
It is certain to be recalled that
first conjecture of the layman would
be that he had weakened his heart
by overindulgence in tobacco. Dr.
Halsey said tonight that he was unable to predicate that the angina
pectoris from which Mark Twain
died was in any way a sequel of nicotine poisoning. Some constitutions,
he said, seem immune from the effects of tobacco. This was one of them. Yet it is true that since his illness began the doctors had cut
down Mark Twain's daily allowance
of twenty cigars and countless pipes
to four cigars a day.
No deprivation was a greater sorrow to him. He tried to smoke on
the steamer while returning from Bermuda and only gave up because
his deathbed, when he passed the point of speech and it was no longer certain that his ideas were lucid,
he would make the motion of waving
a cigar and smiling, expel air from under the mustache still stained with
smoke.
It is a legend that he was vastly
proud of his famous mop of white
of a court lady in waiting in getting
it to just the proper stage of artistic disarray.
Was Great Story Teller.
Through the lanes of Stormfield,
his home, he loved to wander in his
white flannels for homely gossip
with the neighbors. They remembered him best as one who above all
was a mighty talker, stored with fairy tales for the little maids he adored and ruder speech for more stalwart masculine ears.

ATTACK TAFT IN MAIDEN TALK.
Senator Purcell Says President Leans
Toward the Railroad Interests.
Washington, D. C., April 21.—Senator Purcell, in his maiden speech in
the senate today on the railroad bill,
sure the construction of the proposed
railroad law so as to supplant and
nullify state constitutions. He said that there were two vacancies on the
more will soon exist, which would mean four appointments for Taft to
make.
"The pending bill shows the president strongly inclined towards railroad interests," said Purcell. "How
appointees bring about changes in
the existing law." He found fault
over capitalization and improper combinations on the part of railroads.
To the Democrats of the City of Ada.
You are hereby called to meet at court house Friday, April 22nd at 7:30 P. M. for the purpose of considering the proposition of entertaining the democracy of Pontotoc county, and whatever else may come up for the good of the party. Every democrat is urged to be present.
W. H. EBEL,

TO VOTERS! PUT CANDIDATES ON RECORD.
The time has come when you
ask you to vote for them stand for.
official capacity should represent the
legislation and administration of government to rest.
Put this question to all who ask
your support:
1. Do you advocate the adoption of the railroads' proposed amendment to the state constitution? If so, why?
Put these questions to all who ask
your support for governor, legislature
and all other state offices:
1. Do you favor a law requiring railroads to build switches to private industries and pay for that part of the switch that is on their right
of way?
2. Are you in favor of a law controlling the issuing of stocks and
bonds and preventing watering of
stock or other inflation of capitalization by having all issues of se-
commission before being authorized?
3. Are you in favor of a law making the time in which to perfect appeals to the supreme court from the
corporation commission shorter than 12 months as the law now stands?
As the law now stands railroads
evade construction of private
switches because they are not compelled to construct the portion of
way and will not permit the private
industry to do so.
As the law now stands inflation of
capitalization is unrestricted.
As the law now stands corporations
appealing from an order of the cor-
which to perfect their appeal, there-
by requiring from one and a half
to two years to get a decision by
the supreme court, thereby greatly
corporation commission orders a de-
The railroad gives bond and appeals.
It has twelve months' time to perfect
company asks to rehear, which is sometimes allowed, the case reopened and more time consumed.
Put these questions up to candidates. Make them stand for something.

Proposes Big Picnic When Farmers Will Discuss Advanced Agriculture.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20, 1910.—Mr. S. R. Tolbert, Manager Pontotoc County Demonstration Farm, Ada, Okla. Dear Sir: This department is desirous of interesting and enlisting as many farmers as possible in the demonstration farm work, and I am therefore asking your opinion of the following plan:

Some time during the spring have a special meeting of the County Farmers' Institute called to meet at or near the present demonstration farm in each county. Advertise it as a farmers' picnic and state the object for which it is called. At this meeting the County Institute could provide one or two speakers and our district inspector will also be present to speak. The matter of making a contract for another year would be taken up and disposed of as we will then be in a position to know the man's fitness for the place. Should the present farmer not desire to continue the work, or should his work not be satisfactory to the board, or a change is desired, we could make a contract with some one else.

This meeting should be held sometime during the latter part of May or the fore part of June, in order that we may know what shall be done toward planting wheat in counties where that crop is grown. At this time the farm should be in excellent condition and our work show to good advantage.

I would be pleased to hear from you at your convenience on this proposition and any suggestions you may make will be carefully considered.

Respectfully yours,
Oklahoma State Board of Agriculture
By A. C. Cobb, Supt. Dem. Farms.
It has been decided by the officers of the Farmers' Institute to call this picnic the first Wednesday in June, four miles south of Ada, in the grove adjacent the county demonstration farm. This is to be a great gathering of farmers and you are urged to come and bring a full basket. Plenty of water and pasture for yourself and stock and if you wish to come the day previous and camp, the outing will be refreshing and recuperating. Do not forget the date June 1st.

INSURGENTS KEEP GRILLING CANNON

Another Attempt to Meddle With Rules Committee Ends in Failure.

Washington, April 21.—A movement was launched today by the "insurgent" republican members of the house to take away from the speaker the power to appoint the house committees.

Soon after the house met at noon Representative Fowler of New Jersey one of the "insurgents," asked immediate consideration of a resolution providing for the selection of two committees, one to be composed of republicans and the other of democrats, the duty of which would be to designate all members of house committees.

Immediately the house became a scene of confusion, members anticipating a repetition of the stirring scenes enacted several weeks ago when the "insurgents" combining with the democrats, succeeded in removing the speaker from the powerful committee on rules.

Members who had been absent at committee meeting when the resolution was presented, came flocking into the chamber and catching the fever of excitement, added to the confusion. The speaker finally obtained some semblance of order and announced that 275 members were present.

Mr. Fowler was again recognized on his resolution. He announced that he did not wish consideration of the resolution until May 2, but desired to have it referred to the committee on rules and to have it come up before the house as a privileged matter on the date mentioned.

The speaker promptly decided that the resolution was not in order, but said he was willing to hear arguments on the point.

The tension was relieved by Mr. Fowler saying he would withdraw the resolution and deposit it in the basket. The Hopper system for bills and resolutions prevails in the house.

ADA CARNIVAL

The Weatherford Daily Herald says:

They are the famous Lachman shows that were here last year. They consist of the Georgia Minstrels. They present colored minstrels in acts that are very interesting and laughable. Then they have the "Dixieland" show, presenting the Three Vans, who were in Weatherford last spring, playing at the Peoples Theater. The people who saw them there appreciate their return.

Another of the leading features is the Palace of Mystery, in which Prof. Gardner, featuring wonderful Hindoo magic, gives some wonderful exhibitions. Also "Lunette," the flying lady, gives marvelous exhibitions flying through the air. "Supera" is a marvelous electrical performance featuring Lola whose exhibitions cannot be excelled.

In the tent, showing "Little Billy" will be found the smallest horse in the world. He stands 24 inches high and weighs 42 pounds. He is a wonder and creates a sensation wherever seen. Also in this show will be found the man-ape named "Joe." The next show in line is "Elma," the fattest girl in all the world. Of course the Ferris wheel and merry-go-round will attract their quota of attention, always being liberally patronized by the people—especially the youngsters. High wire walking will be given twice daily, exhibiting marvelous feats of skill and nerve. All in all these shows that have come to the city are clean and up-to-date giving very good entertainment for the money.—Adv.

PREPARE SWEET POTATO LAND.

To our mind, there is no crop on our farms that pays more profits for the cost of production than the sweet potato. The great trouble is that the potato requires so little attention that it is often neglected.

The best sweet potato soil is a deep sandy loam with plenty of humus to make the soil mellow and to supply plant food for the development of the tubers. The land should be well-prepared, deep breaking and good harrowing are necessary.

The sweet potato thrives better when placed upon a slight ridge. If the land was flat-broken early last fall or this spring, it should be broken again now. Run the harrow after the plow to pulverize the land. Before the slips are to be set the land may be hedged. Run a drag over the beds to reduce the height and at the same time to firm them for reception of the slips.

If the tubers were hedged out early and forced by watering frequently the slips should be ready to set April 15. To escape the danger of summer drouth, early slips are desirable.

Sweet potatoes are easily kept during the winter if care is taken to gather them and house them properly. There is seldom a surplus of good potatoes on the market during late fall and winter. Where growers are well situated with reference to market, sweet potato growing is a profitable line of farming.—Farm and Ranch.

Union Services Sunday.

Sunday evening there will be a union service of all the congregation in South Ada. The service will be held at the Methodist church and the occasion will be an address by Dr. Conger, state chairman of the anti-Saloon League. Mr. Conger is represented as being a very popular speaker in his particular line. There will be no evening services at any of the other churches.

Chairman of Corporation Commission Gives Reasons for Defeat of Amendment.

Guthrie, April 21.—Chairman J. E. Love of the corporation commission today filed an argument to be printed on the ballot on the question of the repeal of section 9 of article 9 of the constitution, requiring general offices of the railroads to be maintained in the state. He claims the argument for the railroads prepared by the federated commercial clubs of the state was written in a railroad officials' meeting in Chicago and that the commercial bodies of Oklahoma had no hand in it. He says the proposed amendment would strip the commission of its power to exert any influence denying the right to essential information. The proposed amendment would leave the commission without authority to examine any record or to prevent the entire control of any telephone, oil, railway or gas industry by a corporation chartered anywhere else.

HIS VISIT TO CITY.

and Shout "Vive Roosevelt."

Paris, France, April 21—Roosevelt has been received in Paris, the city of the gay and the Mecca of the bias and the cynical, not alone with interest, but with such an outburst of enthusiasm as is amazing, perhaps to no one more than to Paris herself

There is no other man in the world who could have achieved such a reception as Paris gave Roosevelt today. Emperors and Kings, famous notables and the ordinary run of notables are an old story here. They come and go—an endless procession—every month, and no one notices them. They receive the cold formalities of the official world, they live for a moment in the curt paragraphs of the press and then are gone, leaving no more impression than a caravan of shadows

But Roosevelt is something new, something different. He is picturesque, and, next to herself, Paris dearly loves the picturesque. He is a man who does things, and Paris admires achievement and worships success. His fame as a statesman, as a hunter, as a preacher and as a leader of a great people had preceded him, and Paris has fallen in an ecstasy of admiration at his feet

All of the morning papers today printed sketches of the former president's career of his personality and of his jungle exploits. Foreign Minister Pinchon over his own signature has published in the Matin a panegyric to the greatest living statesman. The buildings of the boulevards and the Rues Paix Royal and Rivoli are decorated in his honor

The municipal authorities are aroused and are preparing for the distinguished visitor a series of receptions and honors that have no precedent in the last twenty years of Parisian history. Hence it was no surprise that a great crowd was at the Eastern station to greet his arrival, or that despite the early hour Ambassador Bacon, Minister Jusserand, Consul General Frank Vassell and Embassy staff, French officials, Government and municipal, Baron Takahira and many other notables of the diplomatic world and a horde of journalists and photographers should have been on hand to speak the first word of welcome. But it was an amazing thing to see a crowd of workmen, shopkeepers, clerks and artisans, filling the plaza and the neighboring street, the windows of adjacent buildings and covering even the roofs, for the sole purpose of catching a fleeting glimpse of the great American

When the famous visitor went to Elysee Palace to call upon President Fallieres, the crowd was so dense that the automobiles could scarcely find room for passage

Col. Waterson did well in comparing him with Napoleon, for evidently the French people look upon him as a second Bonaparte

It was really a quiet day for the strenuous one. He had little to do except make formal calls on Fallieres, Pinchon and Loubet and received the return visits. After luncheon he disappeared for two hours and a French journalist immediately started a mystery story which seethed with rumors of a political conference of dynasty-shaking importance. The sensation was exploded at sunset when Roosevelt returned from a drive, explaining that he had been on a visit to his sister and to the studio of the American artist, Si-

is pretty lively work sometimes; but if it's well done, the results are usually good. We've broken a lot of high-spirited fellows to our clothes; and we expect to keep on doing it. The man we especially like to "tackle" is the fellow who thinks we can't persuade him that these fine clothes, made for us by

are better than any he gets made to measure; better for him; economy for him; better style, better quality. We're convincing a lot of just such skeptics right along. The clothes do it; all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical, the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

In the evening, Col. Roosevelt went to the Comedie Francaise where he occupied a box with President Fallieres. He was warmly cheered when he entered the theater, and also upon his departure. He plans to spend a week in Paris and the great problem that he is now deciding is how he will divide his time. He has so many invitations, he says, that if he had twenty-four hours each day and each night he might be able to accept half of them. So great is the pressure to see him that Ambassador Bacon finds it necessary to act as a buffer between him and the numerous Americans who crowd into the embassy. He has issued invitations to a reception tomorrow, but these are confined strictly to the members of the local American organization, which is a great disappointment to thousands in the American colony, and to hundreds of tourists

In Memory of Opening of Country to White Settlers.

Oklahoma City, Ok., April 21—The April fiesta, the most resplendent event Oklahoma City has ever attempted in celebration of the anniversary of the opening of Oklahoma to white settlement, April 22, 1889, began today under fair skies, with Gen. J. B. Weaver of Iowa, known as the "Father of Oklahoma" the central figure and chief speaker of the indoor exercises. Gen. Weaver was a guest at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Sutton, president of the Women's Oklahoma Society of Eighty-Niners. Tomorrow he will deliver an address at the State Fair grounds. The parade tonight was witnessed by 75,000 people. Gorgeously decorated floats and automobiles bore trimmings and characters representing Columbus before Queen Isabella, Pocahontas Saving the Life of John Smith, the Louisiana Purchase, the Spirit of '89, the Advance of Civilization, the Queen of Fashion Oklahoma City, Peace and Prosperity. It was led by Gov. Haskell and military staff and Hart Ward, "Rex Aprilla" and Miss Myrtle Elizabeth Owen. Tomorrow a second parade will be given under the direction of the Society of Eighty-Niners. A reproduction of the famous run with the State Fair Grounds as the destination, will be the spectacular feature of the day. Probably 200 men who made the run twenty-one years ago will participate

Springfield, Mo., April 21—Judge William H. How many speeches Mr. Bryan will make in Missouri is not known. While it was known that he had come out for the county unit prohibition plan in Nebraska, the announcement that he is coming to Missouri the coming summer in the interest of the constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition which will be voted on at the November election, surprised many

is work enough yet.
The prospects for the state summer Normal school are very flattering.
Interest in the office of county commissioner and sheriff seems to
be vying with each other.
Next week the personnel of the next year will be determined.

The Ada democrats should attend
the meeting at the court house this
evening, when there will be proposed the preparation of a big county democratic rally in the near future.

Read Democratic Club President
Ebey's call for meeting at court house this evening.

It should be an interesting meeting at court house, where the city
democracy will meet tonight.
The late number of the Pathfinder,
E. C. N. magazine reflects very creditably on Normal and its student body.
The News family has been largely ill during the past two weeks, consequently some shortage in press
productions.
The normal building roof is being painted red, but before its dry
it resembles the color of Pontotoc
county soil.

It is said that Col. Cox, the veteran county officer, when he heard
his horse fresh shod.
To the spirit of Mark Twain, we
wish you had remained in the world
The Tom Sawyers and Huckleberry
Finns will miss you.
If Gov. Patterson of Tennessee is re-elected Chief Potentate it will
hardly be too much to expect that he will make Col. Dunc Cooper
Grand Master at Arms.—Dallas News

The mayor regrets that the city
could not be furnished water from the clear stream of Sandy during the muddy days of the reservoir, but could not arrange on account of defective pump.
Mayor L. J. Little expresses satisfaction with the apparent progress
of the city clean-up crusade. Capt.
W. H. Fisher hasn't finished the inspection yet, but will make detailed report in few days.

GREAT HUMORIST, MARK TWAIN,
DIED OF BROKEN HEART

Author.
Redding, Conn., April 21.—Samuel
Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain)
died painlessly at 6:30 o'clock tonight of angina pectoris. He lapsed into coma at 3 o'clock this afternoon
and never recovered consciousness.
It was the end of a man outworn by
grief and acute agony of body.
Yesterday was a bad day for the
little knot of anxious watchers at
the bedside. For long hours the gray,
aquiline feature lay molded in the
inertia of death, while the pulse sank
lower and lower but late at night Mark Twain passed from stupor into
the first natural sleep he had known
since he returned from Bermuda,
and this morning he awoke refreshed,
even faintly cheerful and in full pos-
His Last Words.

Mrs. Ossip Gabrilowitch, spoke a
equal to conversation, wrote out in
pencil:
"Give me my glasses."
They were his last words. Laying them aside, he sank first into reverie
and later into final unconsciousness.
There was no thought at the time,
however, that the end was so near.
At 5 o'clock Dr. Robert Halsey, who had been continuously in attendance,
said:
"Mr. Clemens is not so strong at this hour as he was at the corresponding hour yesterday, but he has
wonderful vitality and he may rally

Albert Bigelow Paine, Mark Twain's
biographer and literary executor,
said to a caller who desired to inquire of Mr. Clemens:
I do not think you will have to
call often again.
Nevertheless, Mr. and Mrs. E. E.
Loomis, who had come up from New
son, left Stormfield, Mr. Clemens's house, without seeing him, and only
heard of his death as they were taking the train to New York again.
Mrs. Loomis was Mr. Clemens's fa-
president of the Lackawanna Railroad.
Similarly Jauris Langdon, a

Few Near When End Came.
husband, Dr. Robert Halsey, Dr. Quintard, Albert Bigelow Paine, who will write Mark Twain's biography and is
his literary executor, and the two
trained nurses.
Restoratives were administered but
the patient failed to respond.
A tank of oxygen still stands un-
called for at the Redding station. The valvular action of the heart was
not disordered. There was only an extreme and increasing debility, accompanied by labored respiration.
Nature of Illness.
Angina pectoris is a paroxysmal
affection of the chest of baffling and
obscure origin, characterized by severe pain, faintness and deep depression of the spirits. The pain is severe and of an oppressive or stabbing character. The attacks progress
in frequency and severity with uncertain intermissions, sometimes of long duration to a fatal termination.
Mark Twain did not die in anguish.
On the way up from Bermuda he said to Albert Bigelow Paine, who had been his constant companion in
illness:
"This is a bad job, we will never pull through with it."
Protested Against Restoratives.
On shore once more and longing
for the serenity of the New England
hills, he took heart and said to those
who noted his enfeeblement in sorrow: "Give me a breath of Redding
air once more and this will pass."
But it did not pass, and, tired of
body, and weary of spirit, the old
warrior against shams and snobs
said faintly to his nurses:
"Why do you fight to keep me
alive? Two days of life are as good
to me as four."

Doctors Don't Blame Tobacco.
It is certain to be recalled that Mark Twain was for more than fifty
first conjecture of the layman would
be that he had weakened his heart
by overindulgence in tobacco. Dr.
Halsey said tonight that he was unable to predicate that the angina
pectoris from which Mark Twain
died was in any way a sequel of nicotine poisoning. Some constitutions,
he said, seem immune from the effects of tobacco. This was one of them. Yet it is true that since his illness began the doctors had cut
down Mark Twain's daily allowance
of twenty cigars and countless pipes
to four cigars a day.
No deprivation was a greater sorrow to him. He tried to smoke on
the steamer while returning from Bermuda and only gave up because
his deathbed, when he passed the
point of speech and it was no longer
certain that his ideas were lucid,
he would make the motion of waving
a cigar and smiling, expel air from under the mustache still stained with
smoke.
It is a legend that he was vastly
proud of his famous mop of white
hair and used to spend the pains
of a court lady in waiting in getting
it to just the proper stage of artistic disarray.
Was Great Story Teller.
Through the lanes of Stormfield,
his home, he loved to wander in his
white flannels for homely gossip
with the neighbors. They remembered him best as one who above all
was a mighty talker, stored with
fairy tales for the little maids he
adored and ruder speech for
more stalwart masculine ears.

Attack Taft in Maiden Talk.
Senator Purcell Says President Leans
Toward the Railroad Interests.
Washington, D. C., April 21.—Senator Purcell, in his maiden speech in
the senate today on the railroad bill,
practically charged the president and
transform the supreme court to insure the construction of the proposed
railroad law so as to supplant and
nullify state constitutions. He said that there were two vacancies on the supreme bench and practically two
more will soon exist, which would mean four appointments for Taft to
make.
"The pending bill shows the president strongly inclined towards railroad interests," said Purcell. "How
appointees bring about changes in
the existing law." He found fault
over capitalization and improper combinations on the part of railroads.
To the Democrats of the City of Ada.
You are hereby called to meet at court house Friday, April 22nd at 7:30 P. M. for the purpose of considering the proposition of entertaining the democracy of Pontotoc county, and whatever else may come up for the good of the party. Every de-
W. H. EBEBY,
President Ada Democratic Club.

Put this question to all who ask
your support:
1. Do you advocate the adoption of the railroads' proposed amendment to the state constitution? If so, why?
Put these questions to all who ask
your support for governor, legislature
and all other state offices:
1. Do you favor a law requiring railroads to build switches to private industries and pay for that part of the switch that is on their right
of way?
2. Are you in favor of a law controlling the issuing of stocks and
bonds and preventing watering of
stock or other inflation of capitalization by having all issues of se-
commission before being authorized?
3. Are you in favor of a law making the time in which to perfect appeals to the supreme court from the
corporation commission shorter than 12 months as the law now stands?
As the law now stands railroads
evade construction of private
switches because they are not compelled to construct the portion of the same that must be on right of
way and will not permit the private
industry to do so.
As the law now stands inflation of
capitalization is unrestricted.
As the law now stands corporations
appealing from an order of the corporation commission have a year in which to perfect their appeal, there-
by requiring from one and a half
to two years to get a decision by
the supreme court, thereby greatly
delaying justice and the relief sought
and awarded. As an illustration: The corporation commission orders a depot erected in a town that needs it.
The railroad gives bond and appeals.
It has twelve months' time to perfect
an appeal. Then it is argued before
company asks for a rehearing, which
is sometimes allowed, the case reopened and more time consumed.
Put these questions up to candidates. Make them stand for something.

At Meeting Last Night Twenty-Two Boys Were Enrolled.
At last Ada is to have a first-class band. For some time the question has been agitated, but no definite action was taken in the matter until last night when a meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining who would join. When the roll was called twenty-two responded, with the assurance that they would become active members.
At this meeting the instruments were selected and an order given for them.
Action was also taken on employing an instructor, who is to be here the third of May, at which time the instruments are expected to be here when active practice work will begin.
The band boys should have the hearty support of the citizens of Ada in maintaining a good band, and we believe that they will receive it.

Sorosis Notes.
Sorosis held a call session at the South school building Tuesday afternoon. Many plans were formulated for next years work.
The following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the annual meeting of the 4th district at Tishomingo: First delegate, Mrs. McKee; second delegate, Miss Case. First alternate, Mrs. Bowman; second alternate, Miss Johnson.
The committee on arrangements for the May Pole drill, on April 29th have decided to have this in connection with a picnic on April 30th, this being Saturday, and all Sorosis children will be out of school. Notice will be given later.

Proposes Big Picnic When Farmers Will Discuss Advanced Agriculture.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20, 1910.—Mr. S. R. Tolbert, Manager Pontotoc County Demonstration Farm, Ada, Okla. Dear Sir: This department is desirous of interesting and enlisting as many farmers as possible in the demonstration farm work, and I am therefore asking your opinion of the following plan:
Some time during the spring have a special meeting of the County Farmers' Institute called to meet at or near the present demonstration farm in each county. Advertise it as a farmers' picnic and state the object for which it is called. At this meeting the County Institute could provide one or two speakers and our district inspector will also be present to speak. The matter of making a contract for another year would be taken up and disposed of as we will then be in a position to know the man's fitness for the place. Should the present farmer not desire to continue the work, or should his work not be satisfactory to the board, or a change is desired, we could make a contract with some one else.
This meeting should be held sometime during the latter part of May or the fore part of June, in order that we may know what shall be done toward planting wheat in counties where that crop is grown. At this time the farm should be in excellent condition and our work show to good advantage.
I would be pleased to hear from you at your convenience on this proposition and any suggestions you may make will be carefully considered.
Respectfully yours,
By A. C. Cobb, Supt. Dem. Farms.

It has been decided by the officers of the Farmers' Institute to call this picnic the first Wednesday in June, four miles south of Ada, in the grove adjacent the county demonstration farm. This is to be a great gathering of farmers and you are urged to come and bring a full basket. Plenty of water and pasture for yourself and stock and if you wish to come the day previous and camp, the outing will be refreshing and recuperating. Do not forget the date June 1st.

INSURGENTS KEEP GRILLING CANNON
Another Attempt to Meddle With Rules Committee Ends in Failure.

Washington, April 21.—A movement was launched today by the "insurgent" republican members of the house to take away from the speaker the power to appoint the house committees.
Soon after the house met at noon Representative Fowler of New Jersey one of the "insurgents," asked immediate consideration of a resolution providing for the selection of two committees, one to be composed of republicans and the other of democrats, the duty of which would be to designate all members of house committees.
Immediately the house became a scene of confusion, members anticipating a repetition of the stirring scenes enacted several weeks ago when the "insurgents" combining with the democrats, succeeded in removing the speaker from the powerful committee on rules.
Members who had been absent at committee meeting when the resolution was presented, came flocking into the chamber and catching the fever of excitement, added to the confusion. The speaker finally obtained some semblance of order and announced that 275 members were present.
Mr. Fowler was again recognized on his resolution. He announced that he did not wish consideration of the resolution until May 2, but desired to have it referred to the committee on rules and to have it come up before the house as a privileged matter on the date mentioned.
The speaker promptly decided that the resolution was not in order, but said he was willing to hear arguments on the point.
The tension was relieved by Mr. Fowler saying he would withdraw the resolution and deposit it in the basket. The Hopper system for bills and resolutions prevails in the house.

ADA CARNIVAL

The Weatherford Daily Herald says:
They are the famous Lachman shows that were here last year. They consist of the Georgia Minstrels. They present colored minstrels in acts that are very interesting and laughable. Then they have the "Dixieland" show, presenting the Three Vans, who were in Weatherford last spring, playing at the Peoples Theater. The people who saw them there appreciate their return.
Another of the leading features is the Palace of Mystery, in which Prof. Gardner, featuring wonderful Hindoo magic, gives some wonderful exhibitions. Also "Lunett," the flying lady, gives marvelous exhibitions flying through the air. "Supera" is a marvelous electrical performance featuring Lola whose exhibitions cannot be excelled.
In the tent, showing "Little Billy" will be found the smallest horse in the world. He stands 24 inches high and weighs 42 pounds. He is a wonder and creates a sensation wherever seen. Also in this show will be found the man-ape named "Joe." The next show in line is "Elma," the fattest girl in all the world. Of course the Ferris wheel and merry-go-round will attract their quota of attention, always being liberally patronized by the people—especially the youngsters. High wire walking will be given twice daily, exhibiting marvelous feats of skill and nerve. All in all these shows that have come to the city are clean and up-to-date giving very good entertainment for the money.—Adv.

PREPARE SWEET POTATO LAND.
To our mind, there is no crop on our farms that pays more profits for the cost of production than the sweet potato. The great trouble is that the potato requires so little attention that it is often neglected.
The best sweet potato soil is a deep sandy loam with plenty of humus to make the soil mellow and to supply plant food for the development of the tubers. The land should be well-prepared, deep breaking and good harrowing are necessary.
The sweet potato thrives better when placed upon a slight ridge. If the land was flat-broken early last fall or this spring, it should be broken again now. Run the harrow after the plow to pulverize the land. Before the slips are to be set the land may be bedded. Run a drag over the beds to reduce the height and at the same time to firm them for reception of the slips.
If the tubers were bedded out early and forced by watering frequently the slips should be ready to set April 15. To escape the danger of summer drouth, early slips are desirable.
Sweet potatoes are easily kept during the winter if care is taken to gather them and house them properly. There is seldom a surplus of good potatoes on the market during late fall and winter. Where growers are well situated with reference to market, sweet potato growing is a profitable line of farming.—Farm and Ranch.

Union Services Sunday.
Sunday evening there will be a union service of all the congregations in South Ada. The service will be held at the Methodist church and the occasion will be an address by Dr. Conger, state chairman of the anti-Saloon League. Mr. Conger is represented as being a very popular speaker in his particular line. There will be no evening services at any of the other churches.

Guthrie, April 21.—Chairman J. E. Love of the corporation commission today filed an argument to be printed on the ballot on the question of the repeal of section 9 of article 9 of the constitution, requiring general offices of the railroads to be maintained in the state. He claims the argument for the railroads prepared by the federated commercial clubs of the state was written in a railroad officials' meeting in Chicago and that the commercial bodies of Oklahoma had no hand in it. He says the proposed amendment would strip the commission of its power to exert any influence denying the right to essential information. The proposed amendment would have the commission without authority to examine any record or to prevent the entire control of any telephone, oil, railway or gas industry by a corporation chartered anywhere else.
